Gauchos Look For Upset Win Tonight

San Jose's flying grid party—including 33 players—takes to the air for Santa Barbara this morning at 10 o'clock, where they have an engagement tonight with a tough band of Gauchos.

Coaches Winkelman and Warner took their men through a light limbering up workout yesterday afternoon, despite the morning rainfall which sogged up the turf a bit.

Reports from the southland up to last night indicated that the San Joseans would meet the Gauchos on a dry field. But, just in case the weatherman decides to change his mind in favor of rainfall, the Spartan coaching staff had the boys limber up with an oil-soaked football yesterday.

Santa Barbara has been busily engaged setting up an "anti-aircraft" defense with which they hope to bring down the "flying Spartans."

Likewise, San Jose has been setting up a similar attack, this one designed to stop the expected barrage of Santa Barbara passes.

Coach Spud Harder of the Gauchos will dispense with his heavier starting backfield tonight, in favor of four "pony" backs who can run and pass that ball.

A backfield, that won't hit the 160 average mark, will be Harder's hope to skirt a stubborn Spartan.

Dunking? Doughnut Sale Here Today

Dunking today? Kappa Phi, on-campus Methodist women's organization will sell doughnuts in its booth in the main inner quad today.

The Kappa Phis guarantee to furnish big doughnuts, little doughnuts for would-be dunkers. Students are requested to bring their own coffee, milk, or chocolate.

Dunking is an old American custom and the Kappa Phis defy Emily post et al to spoil the fun.

DEBATERS MEET ST. MARY'S IN RADIO DISCUSSION

Representing San Jose State college's debate team, George Hopper and Harrett Mannina will meet two debaters from St. Mary's college in the first of a series of radio discussions tomorrow morning at 10:30 over station KSFO.

Dr. Earl C. Campbell of the Social Science department will act as moderator for the debate, the subject of which is: "Resolved, that the United States should declare war on Japan." The San Jose team will uphold the negative argument.

This debate will be carried on in the form of a symposium discussion in which one speaker from each side states his viewpoint and the remaining time is spent in discussion of the subject.

'Much Ado About Nothing'

"Men? I hate 'em!" cries Beatrice (Ellen Wylie) to Benedick (Major West) as she prepares to drive her point home by crowning him with the book. Miss Wylie and West appear in tonight's drama, "Much Ado About Nothing", in the Little Theater at 8:30.

Shakespeare

LARGE AUDIENCE SEES FIRST PERFORMANCE OF BARD'S COMEDY CLASSIC

By IRENE MELTON

A packed house witnessed the opening performance of the rollicking Shakespearean comedy, "Much Ado About Nothing", San Jose Players' production, in the Little Theater last night.

With tickets for tonight's show sold out and only a few available for the final production tomorrow night, the cast romped through one of Shakespeare's funniest and most famous comedies under the direction of James Clancy.

Outstanding in the leading roles were Ellen Wylie and Major West, portraying the hot-tempered couple, Beatrice and Benedick, who begin by hating each other but eventually fall in love.

Other fine performances were contributed by Ruth Froehlich, as Ursula; Clarence Cassell, Claudio; Barbara Bellah, Hero; Lenyth Spenker, Margaret; and John Ravano, Don John.

An all-women stage crew under the direction of Peter Mingrone handled scene-changing during the show, which featured sets designed by Wendell Johnson, instructor in play production.

A few tickets for tomorrow night's performance are on sale in the Speech office, room 159, at 25 cents for student body members and 50 cents for general public.

Newmanites Give Dance Tonight

Members of the Newman club will hold a dance tonight from 8 p. m. until midnight at the Newman club, 79 S. Fifth street.

The dance is open to the public. Admission charges will be 15 cents for stags and 25 cents for couples.

Today Deadline For Class Fees

Today is the last day students may pay course fees, according to Harry Brakebill of the Business office. Students who have not paid their fees by the end of the day will be charged an additional late fee of $1, Brakebill announced.

Seniors Name Bonfire Head

John Healey was named chairman of the senior bonfire squad which will work on the construction and guarding of the fire November 7 prior to C.O.P. football game.

Senior co-workers are: Con Lacy, Dick Bourell, Leroy Hill, Frank Kallam, Leo O'Grady, Lew Daniels, and Frank Lovoi.

Junior chairman is Jim Moore, with Usher Tucker, George Ford, George Terry, Don True, Herschel Kearns, and Mert Crockett as helpers.

Bob Roberts heads the sophomore squad and is being aided by Tom Taylor, Doug Curry and Denny Morrissey.

On-Campus Chest Drive Begins November Eleventh

Thanksgiving Dance In Men's Gym Climax To Activities

One of the most ambitious Community Chest Drives ever attempted by San Jose State college students will be started November 11, Chairman Bill Van Vleck announced yesterday.

Highlight of the entire week's drive to fill the required quota will be presented on November 19, with a big pre-Thanksgiving day dance in the men's gym, all profits to be turned over to the community chest.

Alpha Pi Omega Gives Hayloft Hop Tomorrow

Prizes Given For Original Dress

Amid corn stalks, shocks of hay, and pumpkins, Alpha Pi Omega, on-campus social fraternity, will stage one of the most novel dances of the year, the Hayloft Hop, tomorrow night at Matasci's barn, Downer avenue.

PRIZE GIVEN

A prize will be awarded to the couple dressed most appropriately for a "down on the farm" party. The prize is, of all things, a live duck!

Kidwell's Kornhuskers will furnish music and entertainment for the dance. The Kornhuskers are adept at playing sweet, swing, or corn and will play any tune requested. For those who really get in the swing of things, square dances have been planned.

Cider, carrying out the Hal-lowe'en and harvest motif, will be served during the course of the evening.

LOCATION

For those who do not know the location of Matasci's barn it may be reached by driving five miles out Almaden road, turning left at the Almaden Union school and proceeding one quarter mile on Downer avenue. Signs will be posted at strategic points to guide those attending the dance.

Bob Smith, APO dance chairman, announces bids are obtainable from APO members or the Controller's office.

SENIORS ELECT COMMITTEE, SET DATE FOR PARTY

A bonfire committee for the C.O.P.-San Jose football game was appointed, and a tentative date for a senior class party was set by President Vance Perry at a meeting yesterday.

The senior party has been set for Sunday, November 3 from 5 p. m. until 10 o'clock.

Seniors who attended the meeting heard Coach Ben Winkelman tell "How to witness a football game from the spectators' point of view." According to Winkelman, the average football fans keeps his eye on the ball carrier, whereas he should watch the blockers in front of him to really appreciate the game.

Jo Miller played a medley of football songs, and senior class adviser Dr. James De Voss addressed the group. Perry told the class that the seniors were starting out the year with $100 in the treasury.

Sponsored by the Nu Iota Chi, journalism fraternity, students will dance to "The music of the America's" orchestra. At the present time plans call for three bands, each playing one hour, to provide music for the evening.

ADMISSION

According to President Pony Swenson, admission will be 25 cents a person, with members of the Nu Iota Chi paying their way into the dance. Music for the dance will be furnished as part of the band's contribution to the community chest, according to Swenson.

A boxing show in the men's gym has been set for November 14, Van Vleck announced. Handled by Coach DeWitt Portal, the fistic entertainment this year will have more entrants than that of last year.

With plans still a little unsettled on the gigantic musical show in the Morris Dailey, Van Vleck indicated yesterday final arrangements will be made within the next week.

DEBATE, SENATE

To stir the spirit of contribution for the chest drive this year, the Spartan Senate, debate team, and the pre-legal club under the chairmanship of Harrett Mannina will conduct a series of short five minute speeches for campus groups.

Don, Aztec Grid Pictures Shown Tonight

Although the Spartan football team will be playing in Santa Barbara tonight, gridiron fans will be able to hear flash reports of the game at the showing of the U.S.F. and San Diego game pictures in Room S112 starting at 7:30.

Sponsored by Phi Epsilon Kappa, physical education fraternity, an admission charge of 10 cents will be asked of all who attend. According to President Leroy Hill, outsiders are welcome.

Reports of the Spartan progress in Santa Barbara will be flashed every 10 or 15 minutes in order to keep the fans up to date with the success of the football team against the Gauchos.

Death Takes Son Of Psychologist

Death took Newell Brant Clark, two and one-half year old son of Dr. Brant Clark, assistant professor of psychology, in the early morning hours yesterday.

The boy was taken ill two weeks ago today. A brain tumor was said to be the cause of death. The funeral will not be held until relatives of the family arrive.

DAY EDITOR, This Issue FRANK BONANNO

Editorials and features appearing in the Spartan Daily reflect the viewpoint of the writer and make no claim to represent student or college opinion, nor are they necessarily expressive of the Daily's own policy. Unsigned editorials are by the editor.

Our Own Fault . . .

It was through the editorial column of this paper last year that the city council of San Jose attempted to decrease the enormous traffic hazard for student pedestrians by placing cross-walk stop signs at Fourth and San Fernando streets, in front of the college.

This was by no means a whim of the editorial board, but at that time it was thought to be a necessity demanded by a large number of the student body which has to cross this traffic-cluttered arterial many times a day.

While the city council did its part to decrease the traffic hazard, a number of situations have provoked the same problem that faced us a year ago. In the first place operators of vehicles pay little heed to the pedestrian crossing signs, and the city police have never gone out of their way to apprehend lawbreakers of this type.

However, we, for whom the city council acknowledged student demand for this precaution, are the ones most responsible for its failure. Among the drivers ignoring the "Stop for Pedestrians" signs, are a great many Washington Square students—the same who often use the cross-walk themselves.

Drivers are not the only ones to blame, but also student pedestrians. Motorists who do stop are often the victims of allegedly smart remarks from student pedestrians, who are below courteous reciprocation.

The Hand Of Sorrow Falls

The Spartan Daily offers its deep commiseration to Dr. and Mrs. Brant Clark in their bereavement. The tragedy of the death of one upon the path of life for so short a time must bring sorrow to anyone capable of feeling sorrow. The kindness which is being shown by Dr. and Mrs. James DeVoss in taking the boy's parents into their home is a kindness to which the whole student body wishes to contribute.

JOHN HEALEY

Writes For

The Bystander

THE results of this present national election are going to show more than just the election of the Republican or Democratic candidate.

The press is usually considered as playing a great part in the electing of a certain candidate. Just how much influence will the press have on the present balloting? It will be interesting to see just how much the press can change the opinion of the voting public.

I believe it can be truthfully stated that most of the papers of the country are pro-Willkie. A large percentage of them lean toward the Republican candidate.

Most of the reliable polls on the outcome of the election show that Roosevelt is leading all candidates. Does this mean that the press is losing its influence?

There has been a great deal of discussion on this matter. Some believe that the press is highly overrated as to its power of influencing the public during elections.

Some years ago in a fairly good sized city in the Midwest, a fast and furious mayor election campaign was being held. Every pa-

German Ambition Vs. British Will

Dear Thrust and Parry:

Going back to the recent dispute between Vic Gorin and William H. Poytress regarding motives of the nations at war in Europe and the Far East, I have several remarks to make and questions to ask.

The statement was made by Mr. Poytress that Britain and the United States has no intention of forcing democracy on the rest of the world. True, but should it not be admitted that these countries have forced their will and domination on millions of people all over the world, resulting in, as has been agreed upon, the impossibility of Germany and to a large extent Italy and Japan to live?

Would it not be reasonable to say, then, that the underlying cause of the war is mainly Britain's unreasonable will and not Germany's ambition?

Upon what grounds does Mr. Poytress base his statement that total annihilation of the whole of western civilization is the aim of the triple alliance? Expansion and growth of power is no doubt their objective, but does that necessarily indicate that domination of the entire world is their aim?

I think it should be understood that those of us who express seemingly pro-German sentiments are not necessarily sympathetic with the German form of government. But we do feel that German aggression in Europe is the result of English domination over most of the world, that the war is an effect; and English imperialism is the cause.

ALLAN ISAKSEN.

'Young Democrats'; Name Challenged

Dear Thrust and Parry:

In recent issues of the SPARTAN DAILY, I notice that you are still printing notices of the meetings of an on-campus club advertised as San Jose State Young Democrats, long established and original on the campus.

It seems to me appropriate that in addition to these facts any interested student Democrats should also be aware that this club along with some others withdrew from the state organization of Young Democrats and from all affiliation with the Democratic party at the per in that town was for the Republican candidate. But when the results of the race were finally posted, the outcast Democrat was elected.

I am inclined to agree that the press is somewhat overrated in holding so much power. People, when it comes to elections, are too hard-set in their beliefs to be changed by any editorial comment by any paper. If one is a die-hard Republican he will only believe in what he reads for his party, and the same goes for the Democrats.

Anyway, it will be interesting to see on November 6 just where the press does stand.

state convention last June, on the objection that the Young Democrats were supporting President Roosevelt supposedly guilty of war-mongering and selling out to heavy financial interests.

In due course of events this club, with others, had their legal charters taken away from them. The use of the title "Young Democrats" is not only misleading but absolutely illegal.

It is not my intention to intimate this club has no right on the campus. I have no objection to spontaneous student political clubs if they use an appropriate name, but since this organization is neither of these things, it seems only fair that students should be aware of the fact.

Pres. Central Young Democrats.

ELIZABETH MOSS,

'Fire Unfair To Frosh' Complaint

Dear Thrust and Parry:

This is an open question to whom it may concern. I would like to know the reason or reasons, if any, why the freshmen are not being allowed to participate in the plans for the bonfire rally. There must be some reason why the entire freshman class has been excluded from the rally activities, but as yet this reason has been kept hidden behind some meaningless excuses.

Surely one look at the sign-up sheet for bonfire guards outside of the Spartan Daily office will show that the sophomores, juniors, and seniors are not overly enthusiastic about taking an active part in the work which is necessary for such a rally. Nevertheless, I'm sure that they would like the credit for such a project.

Speaking, I'm sure, for a great many freshmen, I would like to say that we freshmen want a chance to work for that rally. This is our first chance to show what we can do, and I'm positive that we can really accomplish some real work, if given the chance.

Since this is to be first bonfire in ten years, we naturally want it to be a good one and with the help and support of the freshmen it will be a good one!!

Yours for a new deal,

RAY STEWART.

Nothing

FRESHMAN RAY STEWART puts up his literary dukes in the adjacent column and challenges the upperclass right to his group from active participation in the bonfire rally. Apparently author Stewart didn't notice that the freshmen were supposed to do all the dirty work in the original plan.

Rally heads backed by an order from the president's office, indulge in confident grins and point out that the administration considers six weeks insufficient time in which to orient the new men and any extracurricular activity might interfere with a low grade.

I consider that a groundless reason. It isn't a question of grades but of the inevitable relationship between the freshman and the administration. Our Ph.D. bachelors simply enjoy the sensation of being big brothers to the wide-eyed new men, and nothing that interferes with their right to mother the whole class must be allowed.

This show of affection stops, for some reason or another, with the freshmen. The sophomores are sophisticated, the juniors are biased and the seniors too scared of the prospect of no job to endorse themselves to the administration.

The paternal pat should be far from seniors. I see "Factory Closed" signs in the even the mildest nightmares. Even the state department better by its prison guests than the professors do by us. I could face the cold world with a new suit and ten dollars in jeans I might even be tempted to look for a job, instead of accepting the inevitable.

I expect to receive my diploma June with the muttered "Hail Vir Sum," a phrase that has haunted me since Caesar crossed the Rubicon. Flanked by steel-helmeted cohorts, I might have been tempted to step into the teeth of the Gauls. "Day I am a man!"

BELNAP

FRESHMAN ELEVEN FACE JINX AND SAN MATEO J.C. TOMORROW AT 10

Promising to "shoot the works" in an effort to break the jinx of never defeating San Mateo junior college, Coach Fred Hamlow will send his strong freshman eleven up against the jaycee squad tomorrow morning at San Mateo.

With the game scheduled to start at 10 o'clock, the Spartan frosh will be playing their first game in the daytime.

SPARTANS HOPE TO THROTTLE PASS ATTACK

forward wall. And, if they can't go around the San Jose line, Harder has high hopes that they'll be able to use their passing prowess to go over them in the air.

Last year, when the Santa Barbaraans lost to San Jose 23 to 7, they were able to score their touchdowns through the air.

Having noted the apparent weakness of the San Jose backs in knocking down passes, Harder plans to send his men into the game tonight with orders to throw them thick and fast.

San Jose's starting line-up will be the same as that which took the field against the Dons with the exception of Kenny Stanger for Jim Wilson at guard, Ed Wenberg for Joe Marelich at end, and Aubrey Minter for Howard Costello at left half.

Wilson is still favoring his injured right leg, while Costello hurt his knee in Tuesday night's scrimmage.

BIG FORWARD WALL

With a hard-hitting 200 pound forward wall, featuring Larry Pickens and Bill Jessup at ends, Harder and his coaching staff look for a Gaucho win.

They have scouted the Spartans frequently and have openly admitted that they think they have the necessary stuff to tag the Spartans with defeat.

The contest will be the second C.C.A.A. game for San Jose. The party plans to return to San Jose tomorrow morning.

Spartan Water Poloists Dunk Bay City Teams

Sparked by Forward Bill Iliff, San Jose State college's varsity water polo septet defeated the San Francisco YMCA 17-4 last night in the Bay City Pool.

Taking an early lead, the State aggregation built up an 8-2 score at half-time and was never seriously threatened from then on.

Claude Horan, guard, scored three goals and Jack Windsor, Charles London and Guy Wathen scored two each.

Chalking up one goal each to contribute to the Spartan victory were Jack Porter, Dean Foster, "Chirp" Sparrow and Jean Shirakoff.

The freshman water polo team was victorious over the San Francisco Aquatic club with a score of 8-3 in the preliminary game of the evening.

WOMEN HOLD TENNIS MEET AT BACKESTO

Women's tennis club will hold a round robin tournament tomorrow at Backesto Park on Thirteenth street from 9 to 12.

All women students interested in tennis and the formation of a good and active club are invited to attend the meet, according to newly elected president, Harriet Sheldon.

Those planning to attend are asked to sign their names on the bulletin board in the Women's gym.

SPARTAN SOCCER TEAM FACES U.S.F. TOMORROW

COMPARATIVE SCORES GIVE SAN JOSE EDGE

On the basis of comparative scores San Jose State college soccer players should "bat the ears" off the University of San Francisco Dons when they face each other on the soccer field near Spartan stadium tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

However, Coach Hovey McDonald has seen too many so-called superior teams bow to what was termed "push-overs," that he is warning his players not to take on over-confident airs.

The scoring in a soccer game is so uncertain that a team that has not made an impression in previous games may eventually hit the jackpot and boot several goals between the up-rights.

DONS LOSE TWICE

San Francisco was downed by University of California, 3 to 1, and lost to Stanford by a like score. San Jose dumped the Bears, 2 to 0, and won from San Francisco State, 3 to 1.

San Jose and Stanford lead the Northern California Intercollegiate conference standings with two wins each and no losses. California Aggies instilled the most fear in future opponents by thoroughly trouncing Menlo Junior college, 8 to 0. Menlo appears to be a weak sister in the league, having also been whitewashed by Stanford, 4 to 0.

UC has won two games and lost one. The Bears beat San Francisco Junior college, 2 to 0.

A wet field should not seriously handicap the Spartans tomorrow, McDonald believes, although the ball will probably not be kicked so far, and the players may slip now and then.

TURNER A "MUDDER"

Ed Turner is a good "mudder" and is expected to be a spark plug for the Macmen at the left half position. The entire team is in good shape, with the possible exception of Frank Arnerich, left full. Arnerich received a foot injury in the season's opener against San Francisco State and it has still not completely healed. He may see action, however.

San Jose's starting line-up will probably be the same that opened last week, when the Bears were downed by the Spartans for the first time in history.

DRILL CLASS COMPLETES WORK IN RECORD TIME

Police school's class in military drill, instructed by Lieutenant Edwin Simpson, of the National Guard, has just completed 13 weeks of work in one-half that time, announced William A. Wiltberger, head of the Police school, yesterday.

Because Lieutenant Simpson will be called to active service next January 3, the military drill class has been meeting twice a week instead of once a week as formerly.

A graduate of San Jose State college, Lieutenant Simpson has been instructor of military drill for two years. As a member of Company E, 159th Infantry, California National Guard, Lieutenant Simpson will go into active service at San Luis Obispo.

Several former students of the military drill class who are now in military service have become drill sergeants almost immediately because of their training here, says Mr. Wiltberger.
